

Welcoming Micah Katz, MD

GENERAL SURGEON

Accepting new patients

Dr. Katz grew up in rural Wisconsin before pursuing an undergraduate degree in biology and psychology at Swarthmore College. After graduation he went on to teach high school biology in an underserved community in Texas through Teach For America before attending medical school at the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Katz pursued his general surgery training at the University of Utah where he also completed a fellowship in global medicine at the Center for Global Surgery. His research focused on expanding surgical capacity in Northern Ghana. He is excited to join the tightknit medical community here in Ithaca and exploring the natural beauty of the Finger Lakes Region with his family.
