

Ngozi Mezu-Patel, MD

INFECTIOUS DISEASE

Accepting new patients

Dr. Ngozi Mezu-Patel has been an Infectious Disease Specialist since 2013. Dr. Mezu-Patel completed her Internal Medicine residency at UHS Wilson Medical Center, Binghamton Clinical Campus of SUNY Upstate Medical University. She completed sub-specialty fellowship training in Infectious Diseases at Louisiana State University Health Sciences Center (LSUHSC), New Orleans, LA. She is an established member of the Cortland medical community and is a member of the Cortland County Board of Health. She has participated in several global health projects and presentations regionally and nationally and is passionate about reducing global health disparities. She participates frequently in medical mission trips to under-served rural communities in Nigeria.

Medical School

St. Matthew's University School of Medicine
(Cayman Islands, Grand Cayman)

Internship

UHS Wilson Medical Center (Johnson City, NY)
and SUNY Upstate Medical University
Binghamton Clinical Campus, (Binghamton NY) –
Internal Medicine

Residency

UHS Wilson Medical Center (Johnson City, NY)
and SUNY Upstate Medical University
Binghamton Clinical Campus, (Binghamton NY) –
Internal Medicine

Fellowship

Louisiana State University Health Sciences
Center (New Orleans, LA) – Infectious Disease

Areas of special clinical interest:

- General infectious disease
- HIV
- Lyme Disease and other tick-borne illnesses
- Hepatitis C
- Sepsis management

Infectious Diseases

CORTLAND

14 Kennedy Parkway
Cortland, NY 13045
(607) 339-0632

cayugamedicalassociates.org

Accepting new patients.
Most insurances accepted.

