

Peter Brennan, MD

GASTROENTEROLOGIST

Accepting new patients

Dr. Brennan graduated from Williams College magna cum laude with a degree in chemistry. He then graduated second in his class from SUNY Upstate Medical College magna cum laude. He completed residency in internal medicine and fellowship in gastroenterology at the University of Virginia and Medical College of Virginia respectively.

Dr. Brennan, who joined CMA in 2018, states that he gets the greatest professional satisfaction from getting to know his patients personally so he can apply the continually expanding science in gastroenterology for their benefit.

In his off hours Dr. Brennan enjoys the outdoors in all seasons and serves on the board of The Nature Conservancy of Central and Western New York.

Medical School

State University of New York Upstate Medical University (Syracuse, NY)

Internship

University of Virginia Medical Center (Charlottesville, VA) – Internal Medicine

Residency

University of Virginia Medical Center (Charlottesville, VA) – Internal Medicine

Fellowship

University of Virginia Medical Center (Charlottesville, VA) -Gastroenterology

Board Certifications

American Board of Internal Medicine;

Areas of special clinical interest:

- Colonoscopy and colon cancer screening
- Inflammatory bowel disease (IBD)
- Liver Disease
- Internal bleeding and iron deficiency
- Stomach acid disorders
- Chronic diarrhea

Cayuga Gastroenterology

20 Arrowwood Drive, Suite B | Ithaca, NY 14850
(607) 339-0788

cayugamedicalassociates.org

Accepting new patients.
Most insurances accepted.

